

Your Excellency,

Allow me to congratulate you most sincerely on the National Day of your country. I wish you, your country and its people much success and happiness.

I am confident that the very good relations between the Czech Republic and Hungary will continue to develop intensively and that the friendship and mutually beneficial cooperation between our countries will continue to deepen. I believe that both of us will contribute to it within our capacity as presidents of our countries.

Yours Faithfully

Václav K l a u s
President of the Czech Republic
